2.9.0 YouTube Downloader is a software utility which helps people grab videos from the Internet and save them to their computer, in various formats and qualities. The interface is plain, yet intuitive, enabling any type of person to easily find their way around it, regardless of their previous experience with computers. In order to start the process, you have to copy the URL of the video that interests you and paste it into the program, in the appropriately-labeled box. Next, you have to click the “Get Video” button, choose the quality and format of the video, download it and select the output folder. A new window pops up, displaying the name of the file, status and a progress bar, so that you can easily figure out the remaining time.

This process usually is almost instant, yet it is important to keep in mind that it might also depend on the item's quality, your Internet connection and the computer's performance. In the main window, you can also view the name of the video, a screenshot from the video and total length (expressed in time). There are no Help contents provided, yet seeing how easy it is to use this software app, it becomes apparent that they are not actually needed. During download, CPU and memory usage remains low, a really useful feature, as it does not put a strain on your computer's performance. To sum up, YouTube Downloader proves to be a useful piece of software, through a good response time, user-friendly interface, multiple formats and quality options. There were no bugs, errors or crashes registered during our tests. ]]> Downloader 2.8.1 27 Sep 2014 12:57:10 +0000 YouTube Downloader is a software utility which helps people grab videos from the Internet and save them to their computer, in various formats

YouTube is a video-sharing website that offers original content uploaded by its users. On the website, content is offered in the form of short videos, which are very well regarded on a range of social media platforms, such as Facebook and Twitter. Getting started with the YouTube Downloader is very easy. Just copy and paste the video URL, in the URL box, and click the Get Video button. The program then displays a list of all available options for the

What's New In?

YouTube Downloader is an application that allows you to download videos from YouTube in a wide range of different formats. If you do not wish to save videos to your hard drive, you can always choose to just convert them. The program lets you download videos from a list of sites including YouTube, Vimeo, Metacafe, Facebook, Dailymotion, and MySpace. It is also capable of creating your own playlists, and it automatically updates its database with the latest video URLs. Another impressive feature of the software is that it is extremely easy to use. In fact, it is pretty much identical to the YouTube website, and you can even choose between download and view modes directly from the application. YouTube Downloader's interface is divided into three main areas: options, links, and a window where you can monitor the progress of your downloads. As the program loads links into its database, they are automatically added to the downloads window. The main window includes a list of the latest video URLs, your playlists, the number of remaining downloads, the total number of videos in the database, and even a small media player that you can use to preview downloaded files. Users have created a number of different lists and playlists, and you can add URLs to them by simply clicking the New button on the toolbar. If you wish to add custom links, you can drag them from the browser directly onto the list. Once the files are downloaded, they are saved to your Drop Box by default, or you can create your own and use it to monitor your downloads. All videos and audio files are extracted from YouTube. Video conversions are possible in a wide range of formats. YouTube Downloader's interface is pretty much identical to the browser, and you can even change your preferences right from the program.

Supported and related software: A new method to find and download videos from YouTube has been launched on the web. The application, which is called Youtube Downloader, lets you easily search for videos on YouTube and download them directly to your hard drive. All you need to do is enter a web address into the search box, click the Search button, then select the videos you wish to download. When you do so, the program will automatically search for the links to download. One of the advantages of Youtube Downloader is that it is extremely easy to use. All you need to do is to copy the URL to the clip and press the Paste button, which will then give you the option to choose a destination folder. Another feature is that the software is able to support multiple video
