Q: Is there a comprehensive guide to CORS with.NET? I want to make an ASP.NET MVC application that has a web API and then a mobile app that is capable of consuming the API using CORS. I've looked around for an article that is a little bit more comprehensive than others I've read, but I can't seem to find one. So I'm wondering if anyone has some resources or guidelines for me? A: This overview seems quite comprehensive: Also, here is a source of actual code that implements CORS that you can probably copy and use. Q: Recovering a disk (sdb) using the file system created by recover-bootable-disk I had a disk (sdb) that was unbootable and my motherboard died. I powered it off and decided to go through the process of using the disk in recovery mode. I used this guide: Recovering a disk (sdb) using the file system created by recover-bootable-disk I successfully booted the Disk (sdb) and it loaded the file system from the disk. However, when I run e2fsck on the disk (sdb) it complains that the file system is damaged, saying: e2fsck 1.43.1 (04-Sep-2017) The superblock could not be read or does not describe a correct ext2/ext3/ext4 filesystem. If the device is valid and it really contains an ext2/ext3/ext4 filesystem (and not something else), then the superblock is corrupt, and you might try running e2fsck with an alternate superblock: e2fsck -b 8193 or e2fsck -b 32768 I have tried the -b option but then I get the error: fsck.ext2: Unable to resolve 'UUID=02C33FDB1C938A1A' So

Again, NCH.New Delhi: The Indian Space Research Organisation (Isro) is working on a technology to make contact with an asteroid which could give a glimpse of life on this or other planets. Isro chief K Sivan said the technology for making contact with an asteroid or a comet is on its last leg and the first test will be conducted by Chandrayaan-2 in the next six to seven months. "If we prove our capability of making a planetary contact, we can work further. We have done all the major work already. With Chandrayaan-2, we will have ability to prove or demonstrate contact with a small asteroid," he said. The development of the technology is being led by the Vikram Sarabhai Space Centre (VSSC), Thiruvananthapuram. Sarabhai was the founder of the Isro. "If you can listen to signals from a planet or an asteroid, you can listen to radio, television. You may receive any form of communication," Sarabhai said. "If you have the technology to listen to those signals, you
