The Story Starts Here Pacific Life is a new platform from our modeller/mmo creator, MisterDon. This is his very first mod, so take it easy on him. Warnings! There is still work to be done, so there could be more bugs and glitches, they are all very minor though. Reviews "It's a very rare thing for a mod to immediately establish itself as one of the most polished, well-designed MMOs to be released. Pacific Life: The Story Starts Here delivers on all fronts, from its superb visuals and first class combat mechanics, to the engaging and dynamic story. It's a great start to what could be a very memorable experience." - MMO-C, Editor-in-Chief "Pacific Life is a visually stunning dungeon hack that lets you create your own persona. While the combat is a little shallow at the moment, the story has a lot going for it and deserves more attention from the developer." - JAM-IP, Senior Editor "Pacific Life: The Story Starts Here is a perfect example of something that started on a small scale, and is now being developed on a much larger scale. It's already a brilliant little game." - TSW, Online Editor "Pacific Life: The Story Starts Here is an excellent studio hack (although it would be more accurate to call it a dungeon hack), that pits you against a number of extremely clever puzzles. There's one puzzle that will require you to figure out how to align a number of blocks at just the right angle, and you'll have to solve the puzzle several times to complete it. It's like a high-level challenge in every step, and there's always something new to discover." - MSTPlanet, Editor-in-Chief "When we first laid eyes on the screenshots and trailer of Pacific Life: The Story Starts Here, I feared it would be some of the worst news a developer could give us, and I still stand by that. While it still needs a lot of work, the game is immediately playable and the development team is putting a lot of effort into making it as polished and memorable as possible. I honestly can't wait to see what they end up coming up with." - Vicious Syndicate, Online Editor "Pacific Life: The Story Starts Here is already
