Storm Chaser is an online multiplayer game for PC and consoles (XBOX ONE and XBOX 360) that allows you to photograph tornadoes. Storm Chaser is a free to play online game designed to be an arcade-style action adventure where you will play as a weatherman trying to capture and avoid dangerous tornadoes. Storm Chaser takes place at night on a big map, with different weather conditions, time of day and location. You will control the camera from a moving car that will interact with the environment in order to adjust the optimal view for taking the best photos. Local Features The game is designed for online and local multiplayer between two players. Each player will control a car equipped with a camera. Players will drive around the map aiming at intercepting strong tornadoes on the way to their desired position. When a tornado is in your path your car will automatically move to a pre-defined position. You will also have to avoid flying debris, be chased by other cars of the opposing team and even other players. The Array is empty. If I submit the form, I want the default values in the input to be overridden by the array that I submit. But when I submit the form, I get error: TypeError: undefined is not an object (evaluating 'this.props.data.isMapping') I'm not sure how to fix this. This is my form: import React, { Component } from'react'; import './EmployeeAddForm.css'; import { Formik } from 'formik'; import { withFormik, Form, FormGroup } from 'formik'; import * as Yup from 'yup'; const input = 'text'; export class EmployeeAddForm extends Component { constructor(props) { super(props); this.state = { data: {}, }; } handleChange(data) { this.setState({ data }); } validate = () => { return Yup.object().shape({ data: Yup.string() .trim() .required(), //...some other validation }); }; update = () => { console.log(this. c9d1549cdd

Q: If $\vec{a} \cdot \vec{b} =0$ is $\vec{a}$ a normal vector to $\vec{b}$? I have to decide if $\vec{a} \cdot \vec{b} =0$ is $\vec{a}$ a normal vector to $\vec{b}$. I do not have a strong intuition about vectorial products so I'm not sure if it is correct to say that the equation implies that $\vec{a}$ is a normal vector to $\vec{b}$. I try to understand if $\vec{a} \cdot \vec{b} =0$ and $\vec{a} \cdot \vec{b} eq0$ are the same (for an example $\vec{a} = (x,-1)$ and $\vec

Laimertail, who has spent his life on the golf course, was paired with Walter Hagen in a recent autograph session at the Masters and found a new appreciation for how much work the famed golf great had on his game. "I've never not looked at golf like I know he did it," Laimertail said. "I've had that love for it for as long as I can remember but I can't imagine someone doing it the way he did it. It's so humbling and I'm really proud to be around him." The Oklahoman PGA Tour rookie from Broken Arrow sought the knowledge of Hagen, who was the only man to win the Masters and a major championship four times. Laimertail, who made a successful debut among the top 10 at the Masters after missing the cut last year at Augusta, said Hagen made him appreciate the value of practice. "He made me appreciate that maybe guys like me, just because it's something
