Keygen-TSZ/Keygen.exe 678.84KB; Keygen-TSZ/tsz.nfo 8.46KB; ReadMe!.txtÂ .Al-Qaida group leader Ayman al-Zawahiri has written a letter to the Obama administration, thanking the administration and President Barack Obama for their "forbearance" in allowing his son-in-law, Omar Abdel Rahman, to win a lenient sentence for his conviction on terrorist charges stemming from the 1993 terrorist attack on the World Trade Center. Zawahiri calls Abdel Rahman's incarceration a "severe punishment," but says the decision to let his son-in-law go free on "harsh" conditions in a secret prison in New York "created an opportunity for us to speak directly to the people of the United States and make a call to bring them our message, which is that the Crusader Crusaders have nothing but ignominy and shame before them." The letter, released by Al Qaeda's official media arm, Al-Sahab, could indicate that Zawahiri hopes that the Obama administration is on the verge of a shift in policy to launch a more aggressive military strategy against the al-Qaida group and its affiliates. The letter is addressed to Obama's national security adviser, Tom Donilon, and appears to be a copy of a letter addressed to U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton. The letter, dated July 27, 2011, is addressed to Donilon, the State Department's acting deputy spokesman Philippe Reines, the Treasury Department's deputy undersecretary for terrorism and financial issues Adam Szubin, and Clinton's counselor Cheryl Mills. It was first noted in The Wall Street Journal. The U.S. government, which has been waging a largely covert campaign against al-Qaida leader and Zawahiri's deputy, Ayman al-Zawahiri, arrested Abdel Rahman in Egypt in 2002 for his role in the 1993 bombing of the World Trade Center. Zawahiri learned of the arrest and rushed to Egypt to secure the release of Abdel Rahman, a top lieutenant. Ab c6a93da74d
