What we research, develop and sell include ARM embedded system, 89C51RD2 microcontroller based system, SIMLAB-8051, MEB-â... ,â...i,â...ç multi-function test. There are many programs on the market, developed by both commercial and non-commercial organizations. We use them to educate microcontroller programmers, develop and improve our products, and help customers use our programs. We introduce our own program to the market, which includes a built-in compiler, debugger and other components. It is called "MEB-I,II,III", which is also a trademark of Texas Instruments.
